

Judy Moody's Mini Mysteries and Other Sneaky Stuff for Super-Sleuths

HAVE FUN!

By Megan McDonald

DISCUSS

Talk through your thoughts.

- Show this book to an adult. It is your own detective book. Talk about the pages of this book that you can actually write on, start with page 4.
- On page 13, there is a Detective Dictionary. Read each word and definition. Discuss them and think of other examples.

CREATE

Make an experience of your own.

- With friends, follow the directions on page 117 to make fingerprint patterns. What patterns do you see?
- On page 61, you read about codes. Practice these new codes and write secret messages back and forth with others.

IMAGINE

Use your imagination to explore.

- You are a mystery writer. Write a mini-mystery for others to solve.
- Detectives use the 5 W's – who, what, where, when and why. Be a spy for a day and use your notebook to write about the 5 W's.
